Figure 2: Three Genres of Storytelling in Relation to Methodological Standpoints

	Discourse Analysis	Materiality	Ontology	Myth	Conversational Analysis	Archival	Quantum
Antenarrative	2	3	1	2	0	0	1
Story	8	5	1	2	0	1	0
Narrative	8	10	5	1	5	3	0

Table 1: Authors and titles of papers sorted by Methods and Theory of Storytelling

	Narrative Theory	Story Theory	Antenarrative Theory
Discourse Analysis Method	Accounts of Interest and Collaborative Behavior in Projects (Leufkens & Noorderhaven, 2012) Arenas of stability Why the flux of idea development escapes from the formal spheres of innovation (Lempiälä, 2012) Dancing discourses in a change process Resistance and counter resistance on upward mobility for women medical specialists (Pas & Lauche, 2012) Where is the glue success and failure in integrating fragmented care processes in hospital surgery (Kajamaa & Engeström, 2012) A discursive approach to sensemaking at work (Andersson & Engstrand, 2012) Interactive Boundary Work and Discursive Struggles (Chreim, Langley & Reay, 2012) Strategic Discourse across Organizational Meetings Towards a Systems Perspective (Duffy 2012) What are you talking about Is it strategy (Spee 2012)	A Dialectical Perspective on the Evolution of Alliances among Competitors (Klein, Ringlstetter & Schäfer 2012) Organizing transparency (Flyverbom, 2012*) representing the Gendered Contours of Precarious Employment Dynamics in Europe (Kosmala 2012) Between Strategy and Ethics a Critical Discursive Perspective on Subjective Ethics in Strategy work (Franck, 2012) Family dynamics and entrepreneurial daily practices (Essers, Bensliman & Verduijn, 2012) Positioning Managers through Empathetic Persuasion A Processual Analysis of Management Coaching Conversations (Schulz & Steyaert 2012) Recovering from public disgrace A critical analysis of legitimation work in the Norwegian Labor and Welfare Administration (Breit, Andreassen & Fossestøl, 2012)	Conceptualizing innovation as discourse a framework and agenda for research (Förström, 2012) From Speech Acts to Act Speeches Habits as a language of action and collective activity as a habit-based discourse. (Lorino, 2012)

Table 1: Authors and titles of papers sorted by Methods and Theory of Storytelling

	Narrative Theory	Story Theory	Antenarrative Theory
Materiality Method	Translation as a means of conceptualizing process in organizations Connecting moments of practice through discourse. (Thomas & Morgan, 2012) A dynamic view of IT-related organizational change as interplay between use and development (Lychnell & Mähring, 2012) Branded Business Schools Processes of Discursive Positioning (Frandsen, Whittle, Johnston, Gotsi, Frenkel, Spicer & Weibull, 2012) Creation of idiosyncratic ecologies for transferring academic knowledge (Mailhot & Matt, 2012) IT Innovation as a Discursive Material Activity (?) Narrativity at the interfirm interface Revealing geosocially situated sensemaking in action.(Mills & Arnaud, 2012) Now and Then Temporal identities and careering amongst business school academics (Clarke & Knights, 2012) Performativity and Information Technologies An inter-organizational perspective (de Vaujany, Carton, Dominguez-Pery & Vaast, 2012) Strategising, self formation and foucauldian askesis making the policy makers (Chini, 2012) The Role of Possession and Language in the Constitution of Organizations (Bencherki, 2012)	Routines as coauthored events Interdependent maintenance of routines through reinforcement and repairs (LeBaron, Christianson, Garrett, Cohen & Ilan, 2012) Beyond Interactions, Transactions. From the Renewal of Pragmatism to today's Work Dramas (Bidet, Boutet & Chave 2012) Communication of risk in emergency management A topological analysis (Weydenthal, 2012) Coping with fairness uncertainty Insights from valuing exceptional' individuals in the English healthcare sector (Gkeredakis, Nicolini & Swan, 2012) Beware of the spirits that you call Explorations into the (dis)ordering properties of communication (Vasquez, Schoeneborn, Sergi, 2012)	Sociopolitical and Textual Agency in Strategy Formation (Varra, Sorsa & Langley, 2012*) technology time cyborg identities in organization studies (Daskalaki, Zundel & Lenny, 2012) Stories affording new pathways in changing organizations (Sykes, Dawson, Marciano, Mclean & Zanko, 2012)

Table 1: Authors and titles of papers sorted by Methods and Theory of Storytelling

	Narrative Theory	Story Theory	Antenarrative Theory
Ontology Method	Authoring, de-authoring and authorization Consultancy texts and the communicative constitution of inter-organizational organizing (Wright, 2012) The Communication of Influence in the Standardization Process Exploring the Battlefield (Juanals, Lafréchoux & Minel) The role of managers' attentional processes in performing routines (Théron, 2012) Talk in and about Routines How Organizational Routines are talked into Being (Dittrich, Guérard & Seidl, 2012)	Is there leadership in a fluid world The idea of "clearing for action" as a possible way of conceptualizing the ongoing production of direction in organizing (Crevani 2012)	Care and possibility enacting an ethic of care through narrative practice (Lawrence & Maitlis, 2012)
Myth Method	Nomads and their hedonistic needs mythopoetic side of legitimization of ideas (Näsänen, 2012)	Meetings, meaning-making and consensus From shared understandings to shared moments in time (Helin & Jabri, 2012) Myths and Strategic Intertextuality A process study of Corporate Political Activity (Murray, Nybert & Rogers, 2012)	Business Biographies and the Rhetoric of Rational Myths (Ganzin, Suddaby & Gephart, 2012) Performing the Imaginary Dimension of Organizations (Philippe & Pérezts, 2012)

Table 1: Authors and titles of papers sorted by Methods and Theory of Storytelling

	Narrative Theory	Story Theory	Antenarrative Theory
Conversation Analysis Method	how do scientific disciplines emerge a snesemaking sensegiving approach (Batard, Donnelly & Mangematin, 2012) looking at organizational change through the construction and reconstruction of values (Leitão & de Domenico, 2012) (Re)constructing Projects through Communication A practice-based View of the Darwin Expedition in Patagonia (Fauré, Giordano, Musca & Rouleau, 2012) A discursive perspective on strategic change legitimizing downsizing as an stitutionalized, strategic practice (Aggerholm & Asmuß, 2012) Unmasking Spies in the Corporation When the police order of discourse erupts into managerial conversations (Allard-Poesi & Laroche, 2012)
Archival Method	Mediating figures risk mapping in inter-organizational project control (Jordan, Jørgensen & Mitterhoffer, 2012) Multiple ways of decision making in a hospital a process view on decision making in pluralistic organizations (Tuckermann, Lai & Mitterlechner, 2012) The development of the quick question instant messaging genre social networking and the moral economy of contribution in 'connected' organizations (Licoppe, Cudicio & Proulx, 2012)	Timescapes and the Conception of Deadlines A Case of a Government Mandated Deadline for Reorganization (Wiebe, Golden-Biddle, Reay & Hinings, 2012)	